

INTERLACHEN 1976

The End of An Era

While President Charles T. Thrift, Jr., does not regard his retirement this year as any break in the continuity of Florida Southern College, the rest of us regard it as an end of an era. For thirty-seven years he served Florida Southern as faculty member, vice president and president, and during his tenure as head administrator, the College has grown in buildings and academic reputation. His leaving signals the end of one phase of Florida Southern's life and announces the beginning of another. We can only hope that the years to come can be comparable to those the College has realized through the efforts of President Thrift.

President, Charles T. Thrift, Jr.

these next few pages are for you, to fill with your own moments, the buildings, pathways, and vistas are all part of the florida southern college campus. recapture the moods you have felt, from cool mornings to mid-day, and on to warm evenings.

i've walked this way many times, i feel as though i could pass blindfolded
yet as i close my eyes
i'm aware of the little irregularities.

i'm unsure of the directions
and surroundings, but i hear and smell and feel much more.

a slice of sky, angles
of concrete, shades of
shadows rained and matted
on cool blooms, softened
by vibrant green, precise structures boasting
strength yet implying
simplicity . . .

the sway of a body, graceful without concern.
of movement hinged on a moment, expertly timed with the precision of balance, but the spontaneity of surprise . . .

the pure joy of silence, the warm feeling of calm deep down, the settling of thoughts and the secure sure blanket of quiet lying loosely around you . . .

as you move on through life collecting and
storing memories, look back on these pages.
reflect upon the emotion that is part of the memory, an experience shared with florida southern . . .

STUDENT LIFE

slip into my dreams,
in through my door,
into my life . . .

imagine slow, soft footsteps moving through the shades from green to gold, a path from silence to sunlight . . .

tell me how you feel
about the dewdrops
in the morning, do they
make you shiver for
the rays of sunlight
forming? do they help
you to see clearly
through the eyes of
shining water, greens
of emerald, butter
golds, the browns of
rich earth broken?
when you reach to
touch them can you
feel their bursts within
you, can you taste the sweetness that they
hold inside themselves?
or do you disregard
them as nature's lonely
tears? does your heart
feel heavy with the
weight they seem to
bear?

see the soft glow at the far end . . .
as dusk's pinlight rays cut through the leaves . . .

try to imagine those leaves of golden shades to shuffle through . . .

and warm grey sidewalks sighing with the end of another day . . .

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

1976 INTERLACHEN DEDICATION

President and Mrs. Charles T. Thrift

Charles Tinsley Thrift, Jr., came to Florida Southern in 1940 as Professor of Religion, was elected vice president in 1946, and in 1957 he became the fourteenth president of the College.

During his administration Florida Southern has markedly increased its academic standing, strengthened its endowment, and achieved impressive gains in its building program — including Branscomb Auditorium, the George W. Jenkins Field House, the Roux Library, the Ludd M. Spivey Humanities and Fine Arts Center, and the College Center. Numerous other campus facilities have been added or vastly renovated.

He has served with distinction as president of the Florida Association of Colleges and Universities, the Florida Historical Society, and the Lakeland Chamber of Commerce; chairman of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Florida, and as a member of the Florida Academy of Sciences, and the United Methodist Church's Board of Education.

Despite his administrative accomplishments, he is essentially a scholar whose first love is teaching. Students closely associated with him over the years have come to recognize his genuine concern for their personal and educational welfare.

In grateful recognition of his thirty-seven years of distinguished service, and as he retires as president to assume the new office of chancellor, we proudly dedicate this yearbook to —
Dr. Charles T. Thrift, Jr.

SENIORS

Senior Class Officers, 1975: Ellen Arcand, Female Senator; Rick Zandy, President; Jeff Clay, Male Senator; not pictured is Karen Konsler, Student Union Board Representative.

FOR THOSE NOT PICTURED . . .

The Interlachen regrets the fact that due to photographic problems a number of individual student pictures do not appear in this issue.

Mr. Paul Wille, our campus photographer, became seriously ill just prior to the scheduled shooting of class pictures and while the void was capably filled, the absence of his expertise had its effect and retakes had to be scheduled. Unfortunately, many students did not appear on the days set for retaking their individual pictures and as a result do not appear in this section.

The Interlachen hopes that all involved understand these unusual circumstances, and that this issue will be enjoyed as a chronicle of the 1975-76 school year even though their picture may be missing. Thank you.
